$150 vouchers give free kick to CQ kids

Thousands of Central Queensland kids will get a $150 head start from a new $7.5 million statewide investment in FairPlay vouchers under a re-elected Palaszczuk Labor Government.

The Member for Keppel and Assistant Education Minister Brittany Lauga said the vouchers, to cover sign on costs, would be a helping hand for families.

Ms Lauga said FairPlay vouchers were a boost for CQ families.

“We know Covid-19 has had an impact on household budgets, so we’re doing what we can to give local families the support that they need.”

“Because of Queensland’s strong health response, we were able to safely get kids back out on the field, playing sport with their friends.

“It also meant that sporting clubs and organisations were able to reopen their doors and get their staff back into work, creating jobs and re-energising local communities and local economies.

“The vouchers also support clubs to stay open for training to put teams on the field, which means employing locals to help manage club operations.”
