Queensland jobs open through Ergon search

Queensland's publicly-owned energy distributor, Ergon, is on the lookout for Central Queensland's brightest sparks!

The Member for Keppel Brittany Lauga said applications open today (Friday, August 21) for an Ergon apprenticeship with up to 14 spots to fill in the region.

"These are the next generation of energy workers who will have the skills to support Queensland's ongoing transition to a renewable future."

"The Palaszczuk Government is investing in the futures for young Queenslanders and there has never been a better time to get a trade in the power sector with our publicly owned energy assets."
