$150 Fair Play vouchers extended

Round 5 of FairPlay Vouchers have been extended until October 13 to reflect the impact Covid has had on community sport, the Member for Keppel and Assistant Education Minister Brittany Lauga said today.

Ms Lauga said the program supports eligible Queensland parents and carers with a $150 voucher towards the cost of sports registration for kids aged between 5-17.

She said the $7.5 million investment would see up to 50,000 children and young people from low-income families receive $150 vouchers to help pay club registration fees.

“This means here in Central Queensland, FairPlay could be the difference for many kids between getting active or staying on the couch.

“FairPlay reduces one of the key barriers many young people face when taking part in physical exercise; the cost of joining clubs.

“This is about fitness, fun, friendships and fairness.

“I’m proud that FairPlay was a key re-election commitment to support more young Central Queenslanders in sport,” said Ms Lauga.

You can apply if your child is a Queensland resident aged from 5 to 17 years (inclusive) at the time of application, holds, or whose parent, carer or guardian holds, a valid Department of Human Services Health Care Card or Pensioner Concession Card with the child’s name on it.
